Introducing Premier-Line

The New Garage Door Standard

Obsessively designed and exclusive to JDUK Door Systems. The Premier-Line sectional garage door provides that unnerving and unbeatable combination of high end standard specification, mind bending product and colour choice and the confidence that the secure and safe functionality will protect what you choose to store in your garage. Your home is yours, designed in your own image. Premier-Line sectional doors now provide you with that impactful final piece of the design jigsaw, that will have the most conservative of neighbours gazing on enviously.

High Performing Thermal Efficiency

Premier-Line doors are all about thermal conductivity. Premier-Line systems eliminate heat loss in the most affected areas of the door leaf allowing the door to maintain optimum temperature inside your garage.

Your Choice Is Our Passion

Colour is the first feature our senses react to. Premier-Line sectional doors can be manufactured in any standard RAL or specialist colour. Combined with a range of panel textures it can provide the homeowner hundreds of options for a totally bespoke design.

Function & Safety

High levels of standard safety specification ensure that the Premier-Line boasts the complete package when combined with the Select-Line or High-Line automation.

Efficiency In Design

Sectional garage doors boast several benefits for home owners providing a wider opening for easier car access. The door is sealed all around making insulation highly effective. U Values are detailed on page 15.

Have It Your Way

Premier-Line offers choice in every aspect however we make selecting your choices easy. Panel designs, textures, glazing and automation can all be specified and colour matched where necessary to complete your vision.

The Premier Promise

Meticulously engineered to the highest of standards. Premier-Line products are created with the perfect balance of form, function, strength and security. This is our promise from factory to fitting.

Functionality & Assurance

Challenging Tradition

Obsessive attention to detail begins where you would expect. From early as conception through to final design the Premier-Line was conceived as a range of doors to provide standard features that challenged the traditional specifications of the competition. Attention to detail from pencil to production has guaranteed that the entire manufacturing process produces an end product that meets with your highest standards of satisfaction.

It is a promise of the highest quality, safety and comfort at each stage of use. Premier-LIne conforms to EN 13241-1 as standard and boasts the obligatory CE marking of quality manufacture.

Stamp of Approval

Don’t just take our word for it! Only high-quality and durable long lasting materials are used in the fabrication of the Premier-Line garage doors. Fully inspected at every stage of production with an intense focus on quality.

Premier-Line provides you with an added layer of protection ensuring that you the customer achieves a complete level of product satisfaction with a 10 year safe and reliable operation warranty.

Burglary Protection

Upon closure the Premier-Line door is designed to protect what is inside. Both the Select-Line or High-Line Automation applies additional resistance protecting the door from being forced open.

You can be rest assured that everything that is important to you is well protected behind Premier-Line.

- Secure and safe
- Protection against unwanted entry
- Walk away with confidence

Safety As Standard

Force monitoring ensures in the event of the slightest resistance during operation the automation detects abnormal pressure and reverses the direction of the door keeping everyone and everything safe.

Finger protection provides safety for you or your loved ones and eliminates fingers being pinched between panels when opening and closing the door.

- Finger protection
- Force monitoring
- Safety first

Tension Springs

Premier by name, Premier by standard.

Premier-Line tension springs are designed and manufactured with an inner and outer spring. This provides added safety protecting your family, pets and valuable belongings and preventing unwanted injury or damage.

- Innovative technology
- Family protection
- Damage prevention

Track Systems

Premier-Line is ‘made-to-measure’ and this also extends to our track systems. Similar to the door leaf, the track system is produced individually for you. We have a solution for any application and the quality does not stop here. Our Premier-Line promise is that the system will operate effortlessly and smoothly in even the most demanding of environments.

Premier-Line offers side tension springs on doors up to 5500mm wide, no requirement for unsightly torsion spring systems internally.

Quality is found in the smallest detail. Premier-Line tracks are fitted with the patented “Smart Connection” system.

Unlike many of our competitors we take into consideration the smooth and silent movement of the rollers in the tracks. This follows hours of field and laboratory testing, a source of obsessive pride.

The side roller hinges are the same as those used on industrial doors and as such are designed to withstand much greater forces than residential applications could exert. This robustness guarantees a long life span for Premier-Line doors. The track systems are fully bolted and the thickness of the steel used ensures that the quality you expect as part of your home is built to perform with pride.

Coated Tracks & Hardware

Available as an added piece of aesthetic luxury, Premier-Line options ensure the perfect match with the inside colour of your design. As an optional extra we can powder coat and colour match the tracks using the unique IGP-Powder Coating System.

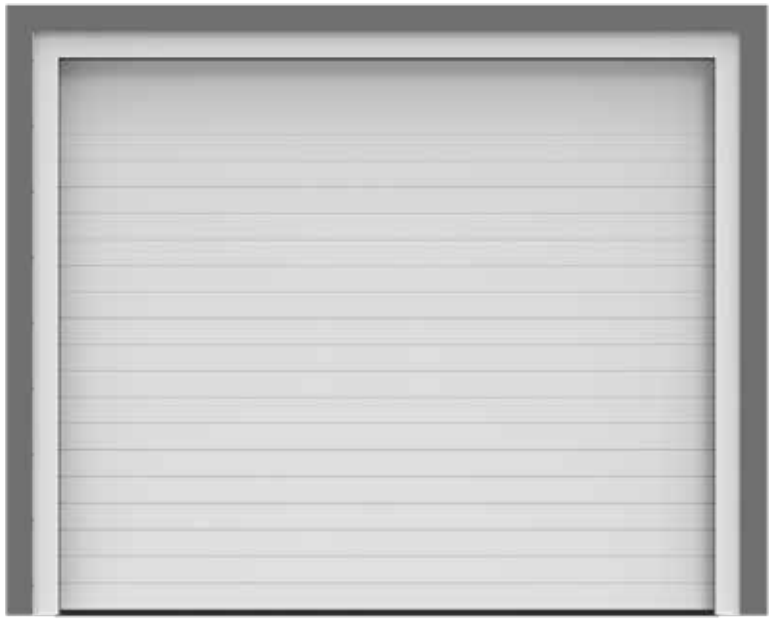
In addition to the coated tracks you can choose to have the hardware finished in white. The coating for both tracks and hardware helps to protect the metal components from corrosion caused by damp and extreme weather.

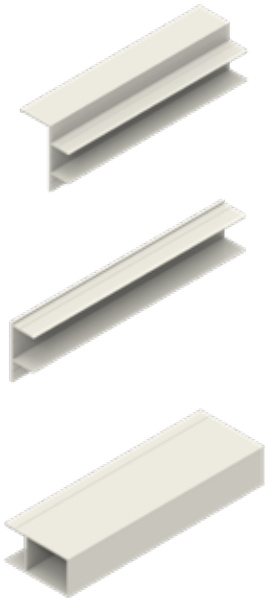
Aluminium Frame

Premier-Line can offer a versatile aluminium frame which is a great alternative to timber. This allows for perfect positioning of the sectional door frame when installation between the aperture is required.

The aluminium frame is supplied with a two-part vertical frame section and a connecting header section. The frame can be colour matched to provide harmony with the door leaf.

In summary this provides style, strength and pleasing aesthetics.





Profile Systems

Premier-Line doors are available with a unique profile system if required. Specifically designed for JDUK Door Systems this enables a perfect finish for doors installed within the aperture, enhancing the holistic look and design of your garage door.

This unique profile system enables installation of a sectional garage door in a garage aperture regardless of the building quality. Even garages without side clearances or lintels are therefore easily made compatible for a new sectional door. Enhance the functionality and aesthetics of your garage with our bespoke and unique profile system!
